Summit Guiding Question:

What have we learned from the pandemic and where are we going?

1. To connect with and learn from education systems that share a broad set of values, linked to the ARC values.
2. To develop realistic and appropriate strategies for each education system within and beyond the pandemic to build a better narrative for the future.
 - a) To further develop the well-being, equity and inclusion agenda.
 - How do we avoid a deficit approach and, instead, build cultures which are genuinely strength-based, supportive and inclusive for all our students?
 - What more can be done to support the health and well-being of students in your system?
 - b) To develop innovative approaches for our future work with our schools and with our students.
 - What was previously though impossible that is now possible?
 - What new practice has been the most impactful and how can we build on it?
 - Where do we need more innovation and how can we support it across the system?
3. To share and develop our strategies for leading change effectively across our education systems.

Towards a more professionally-led system:

 - How do we make change happen within a complex system?
 - How do we empower teachers and school leaders?
 - What is the role of professional associations in leading change?
 - How do we engage with parents and involve students effectively?
